

The Rustic C panel is the ultimate roofing panel for innovative builders who choose the beautifully weathered look of rusted steel. Designed to naturally oxidize, Rustic C panels provide a picturesque western look. The Rustic C panel is recommended for installation in arid and semi-arid climates and can be used for roof and wall applications. Flat sheets and trims are available from the same material as the panels. A full line of accessories are also available, including foam closures, sealants, and fasteners.
